MOOD:  silly

The Shoggoth Dynasty spreads! Reports of spawnings trickle in from around the nation!

Elmer the all-father begat his spawns Homer (Ann Arbor), Eddie (Austin), Lucinda (Toronto) Ignatz (Tucson), and Aristophanes (Seattle).

Aristophanes begat George.

Homer begat Olmer (Kalamazoo) and Jabba No Babba (Basom, NY). And Jabba No Babba begat Jub Jub.

We need a website.

I think a more pertinent question might be how much (and how often) would trollcatz pay to not have that information spread?

I only fall off cliffs intentionally! Well, or accidentally with a rope. Okay, or accidentally with a crash pad. But that one's not really cliffs, just big rocks.

Err, well, here's a shot at a family tree, using the above information. (It's made using the open source GraphViz program, aka dot -- here's the family tree's source.)

None of the shoggoths are mine, I just think it's a cool project. (Maybe I'll acquire a shoggoth of my own when I move out to a place of my own in a month... Though I'll apparently be sharing my place with at least one skilled baker who's hopping to try sourdough, so I may have competition. Oh the horror. :-)

Oh! Spawn of Elmer! I've been thinking of trying to start my own shoggoth, but I'm not sure if it would work.

And what did you do?

cvillette

April 24 2008, 01:58:08 UTC COLLAPSE

This is only a test of the emergency coyote splinting system. If it had been a real maiming, the splinting you just witnessed would have been preceded by a bloodcurdling scream.

adarad

April 24 2008, 03:27:48 UTC COLLAPSE

Well blood curdling screams don't translate too well over teh intertubes. As long it was a test and not the real thing, that's Of The Good.

 kayjayoh

April 18 2008, 03:58:57 UTC COLLAPSE

I am slightly envious of all the Elmer spawn. I'm another of those that have tried to start my own shoggoth. No success yet for the first two tries, but I'm hoping it may have been a "cold Wisconsin apartment in winter" thing. I'm going to try again soon, now that temperate days have come again. Third time's a charm? Maybe?

Btw, I saw this today and totally thought of you:

Olmer is mine! You can see pictures of his inaugural loaf here:

I've eaten at least seven pieces of him so far today. So delicious! I'm going to be making many more loaves this weekend.

Thanks so much for sharing.
